

HERE AND THERE

by BETSY-ANN

Remember Bob Martin, Jr., the tall blond boy with the big smile? Well, Bob wanted to help with this war but was rejected by both the Army and the Navy on account of his eyes. But the Army and the Navy didn't stop Bob. He found he could drive an ambulance in the American Field Service. He volunteered last November, furnishing his own uniforms and equipment. He was 77 days at sea before reaching India, where he is stationed. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin of 531 Glenwood Road, Merion.

Remember "Rich" McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McConnell, who lived on Merion Avenue, moving from there to Richmond, Virginia? Well, after having been on 19 missions, he's instructing in Africa.

Staff Sergeant Charles Leo McGee, 2nd Air Force, is home on leave from Italy. He has been wounded twice and still carries two bullets in his arm. He will be based at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Bob Yborra, Aviation Radio Technician, 2/C, is home from Corpus Christi, Texas. He will be stationed at Washington, D. C. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Yborra of 312 Chestnut Avenue.

Ens. George William Watson, C-5, in Naval Air Force, is home on ten day leave from Beaufort, South Carolina. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Watson, of 218 Hamden Avenue.

P. F. C. Edwin Pittipolli, attached to the Medical Corps, is home on 11 days' furlough from Camp Crowder, Missouri.

Flight Officer Thomas B. Ferguson graduated March 12th from Turner Field—will report in ten days to Westover Field, Massachusetts.

Lieutenant Jack Jeffries has been transferred to Naval Base Great Lakes.

Perry, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard MacFarland (seen behind the candy counter evenings at "Davis") will join her husband, Lieutenant Martelock at Camp Hale, Colorado. She will remain until he goes overseas.

Emergency Call from Red Cross Knitted Helms for the Army badly needed. The Red Cross Rooms at the Fire House on Forest Avenue are open five days a week from ten until four. On Tuesday evenings, they make surgical dressings from seven until ten. If you can knit don't fail to rise to this call for help. The Red Cross will supply the yarn and the directions.

Unfortunately Nixon Roger Stuart, aged four, of 318 Kent Road, Cynwyd, opened the door of his mother's car parked on Haverford Avenue. While crossing the street to find his mother, a car, driven by Mr. Giucapofetti, pulled out from the curb. Unaware of the small boy between his car and the car parked in front of him, he struck him. The little boy was taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital, where he was treated for head and foot injuries.

Met Mrs. Lindley H. Trotter, of 205 Woodside Avenue, hurrying home with her groceries. Said she was going home to don slacks and big shoes, bent on spreading lime on her garden plot in "Quinn's Field".

Those who "listened in" to the rendition of Th. Thovatore broadcast from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York on last Saturday afternoon, enjoyed a rare treat. But did you know that the magnificent contralto voice you heard to waltz through the air, was that of the famous contralto, Mrs. Shaw, formerly of Conway and Windsor Avenue? She sang the part of the egypt, and her rendition quite stole the show.

Within the borough of Narberth we have six cases of chicken pox, and two cases of scarlet fever.

Do you know that although we have had dogs shot for biting pedestrians—within the borough of Narberth we have never had a case of rabies.

How do you know Spring is just around the corner? Well, the song sparrows wake you early now—rain or shine—the bluejays and robins are here—and small birds are hurrying from store to store in quest of kites to fly.

Fillman Named Cynwyd Club Head

Governor Contest Decided In Run-Off Election

The Cynwyd Club had to have a run-off election to decide one of its governor contests at its annual election of officers Tuesday night.

At the first poll Alf T. Ostie, Cynwyd, tied Thomas P. Long, Cynwyd, for one of the governor vacancies. In the second poll Ostie won.

The club elected E. Victor Seixas, Overbrook, governor, and re-elected three to go back on the board. They were John S. Custer, Chudleigh R. Long, both of Cynwyd, and J. Elmer Minchoff, Philadelphia.

The following officers were elected: John L. Tillman, Narberth, president; Horace G. Hill, Jr., Philadelphia, first vice-president; Gerald S. Erb, Philadelphia, treasurer; Harry M. Simmons, Cynwyd, secretary.

The treasurer reported that due to some wartime curtailments the club was in a good financial condition.

Reports of chairmen were also received by the club members.

Schedule Institute On Postwar Plans

To Discuss Possibility Of Municipal Projects In 5-County Area

How municipalities in the five county metropolitan area of Philadelphia may plan for post-war projects without dependence on the Federal Government will be one of the subjects to be discussed at the Southeastern Institute on Pennsylvania Municipal Postwar Planning to be held at the University of Pennsylvania on March 27, 28 and 29.

This was announced by Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood, Jr., whose department, through the University of Pennsylvania, is sponsoring the Institute in conjunction with a local committee on the Institute of Local and State Government at the University of Pennsylvania.

Secretary Livengood will be the speaker at a dinner session of the Institute March 27.

"While no rabbits will be pulled out of hats, the Institute will offer an integrated, practical program on postwar planning of real value to both small and large municipalities," Livengood said.

Discussions will be led by Francis A. Haffner, executive director of the State Planning Board, and one of the foremost authorities on planning in Pennsylvania.

Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, and Mayor Bernard Samuel will discuss important aspects of cooperative planning among municipal officials of the Philadelphia region at a dinner session on March 28 and 29.

Afternoon sessions, from 3 to 5:30, will be held at Houston Hall Auditorium, 3417 Spruce Street, and the dinner and evening sessions, from 6 to 9:30, will be at the Christian Association Building, 36th and Locust Streets.

Reservations for the Institute may be made with Dr. Stephen P. Swensen, director of the Institute of Local and State Government, 343 Woodland Ave., Philadelphia.

Churches Invited To Join Federation

Seymour Reports Letter Sent to Haverford Township

The executive committee of the Main Line Federation of Churches met March 14, at the headquarters, 18 Shinn Road, Ardmore. Dr. B. L. Scott, president, presided.

R. W. Girvin 3rd, treasurer, reported on the condition of the finances for the month and asked to have bills amounting to $270.53 approved.

The Rev. Frederick E. Seymour reported that the membership committee had sent out letters of invitation to join the Federation to a number of new churches in Haverford Township who are not members.

Miss Alice H. Ambler, executive secretary, reported that she had attended a Regional Conference within the month, of executive secretaries of the family agencies in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, and Maryland. The problem of the armed forces, the club, and the difficulty in securing adequate, well equipped workers are being used by the government, she said, and there are not enough to go around.

Miss Ambler stated that the applications for assistance within the last two months, practically all have required special skills because of their complicated social and personality problems involved.

Name Delegates to State Conference

D. A. R. To Make Additions to Valley Forge Tablet

A meeting of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, D. A. R., was held at 745 P. M. at the Hotel C. Fenno, 600 Essex Ave., Narberth, March 20. The first vice regent, Mrs. Joseph H. Baker, led the meeting in absence of the regent, Mrs. W. H. Woodcock.

A guest, Brigadier Mrs. George Purdum, of the Salvation Army, spoke of the work in progress at the Red Shield Club for the men of the armed forces. The club accommodates 250 to 300 men for sleeping quarters, also serves dinners each evening at a very low cost, besides supplying forms of relief.

Election of members to attend the State conference to be held next October in Philadelphia took place. Nine delegates and nine alternates were chosen:

Delegates: Mrs. Harold C. Fenno, Mrs. Joseph H. Baker, Mrs. Joseph H. Miller, Mrs. John L. Miller, Mrs. Henry A. Frye, Mrs. Harry M. Blum, Mrs. William Briner, Mrs. Eugene B. Hoskins, Mrs. Carl L. Wells.

Alternates: Mrs. Ainslee E. Hickerson, Mrs. Chester C. McWhirter, Mrs. George R. Powell, Mrs. Robert L. Doherty, Mrs. Hugh G. Martin, Mrs. I. Marshall Bradshaw, Mrs. Rowland C. Alexander, Mrs. A. Hammer.

It was announced that Mrs. Ralph A. Mizner, associate member, has received her appointment from her chapter to serve on the house committee at the National Congress, D. A. R., to be held in New York City.

The following names of sons and relatives of members to be included on a permanent tablet in the Valley Forge new Bell Tower were announced:

John Dougherty Piper, Charles Nelson, Joseph J. Flounroy, Harry M. Blum, Harry M. Blum, Jr., Donald Sherwood Martin and Harry Morris Ellsworth, Jr.

Assisting hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. John L. Miller, Mrs. Carl L. Wells and Mrs. Eugene B. Hoskins. Mrs. Joseph H. Baker poured tea.

SPEAKER

WM. S. LIVENGOOD, JR.

State Secretary of Internal Affairs, who will speak at a dinner session of the Southeastern Institute on Pennsylvania Municipal Postwar Planning on March 27, 28 and 29.

Discussions will be led by Francis A. Haffner, executive director of the State Planning Board, and one of the foremost authorities on planning in Pennsylvania.

Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, and Mayor Bernard Samuel will discuss important aspects of cooperative planning among municipal officials of the Philadelphia region at a dinner session on March 28 and 29.

Afternoon sessions, from 3 to 5:30, will be held at Houston Hall Auditorium, 3417 Spruce Street, and the dinner and evening sessions, from 6 to 9:30, will be at the Christian Association Building, 36th and Locust Streets.

Reservations for the Institute may be made with Dr. Stephen P. Swensen, director of the Institute of Local and State Government, 343 Woodland Ave., Philadelphia.

Name Chairmen In Army Fund Drive

Volunteer Will Knit Sweater for Eisenhower

Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson, Haverford, chairman of the Main Line Division of the 1944 Greater Philadelphia Maintenance Fund and War Work Campaign of the Salvation Army, announced the election chairmen and workers at the Red Shield Club of the Salvation Army Tuesday.

At the meeting Mrs. Brigadier Samuel Hepburn revealed she had just received a letter from General Dwight D. Eisenhower from his Headquarters. The letter read: "Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force Office of Supreme Command."

Dear Mrs. Hepburn: Mrs. Eisenhower has forwarded to me your nice letter of Feb. 10. I would indeed be honored to have one of your sweaters and would in addition find it a most convenient thing to have. I think a size 40 would be about right. Please let me know also that I would deem it a privilege to be included with those that are especially remembered in your organization once every month.

Very sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

This sweater will be made by Mrs. Florence Appel, first volunteer worker who gave her services to the Salvation Army the day after Pearl Harbor. Mrs. Hepburn will send the sweater together with whistles, socks, helmet and scarf to the General within a week.

At the meeting Mrs. Patterson announced the following for the campaign which opens April 3: Honorary Chairman, A. J. Drexel Bell, Vice Chairman, Mr. Arthur Brown, Secretaries, Mr. John Kane and Mrs. Frank Olewiler; Ardmore Chairman, Mrs. R. L. Balderston, Mrs. Lydia Black, Mrs. William Lieb, Bryn Mawr Chairman, Mr. Evans Randolph, Mr. Robert Corigan; Bala-Cynwyd Chairman, Mrs. Frederick W. W. Graham; Devon Chairman, Mrs. Hyndy Powell; Haverford Chairman, Mrs. Wilson; Haverford Chairman, Mrs. Miller; Condemner, Ithan Chairman, Mrs. George Justice; Merion Chairman, Mrs. R. W. McCaskey; Narberth Honorary chairmen, Mrs. William Clear, chairman, Mrs. C. C. Briscoe; Overbrook Chairman, Mrs. George Martin; Penn Valley Chairman, Mrs. P. Price Norris, Jr.; Paoli Chairman, Mrs. Robert C. Grier; Radnor Chairman, Mr. John Stewart; St. David's and Wayne Chairman, Mrs. A. W. Mosley; Villa Nova Chairman, Mrs. J. Well Sargent and Wynnewood Chairman, Mrs. Joseph B. McColl, Jr.

Mrs. William Rex Crawford will use as her topic, "Cross Currents in Latin America."

Miss Mary Johnson, Pre-Medical Student, University of Pennsylvania, will speak on "Youth Looks at The World of Tomorrow." Mrs. Maurice N. Weyl will preside.

This meeting is open to the public.

Another Lower Merion-Hazleton Court Classic? Dark Horse Sayre Five Holds The Answer In Eastern Semifinal Tourney Game Saturday

Sayre High School, an almost unknown quantity, is barring the way to another classic meeting of Lower Merion and Hazleton in the State PIAA basketball tournament.

Hazleton, the big power in State basketball until Bill Anderson and Lower Merion happened along, meets Sayreville, a dark horse from District Two, on Friday, while Lower Merion meets the challenge of Sayre Saturday. Both games are slated for Allentown Central Catholic High School's Rockne Hall, which can accommodate 4,000.

The Lower Merion game will start at 7:45 P. M. so that Main Line fans will be able to make train connections for the trip home. There is no transportation out of Allentown after 11 P. M.

Everywhere throughout the State fans are rooting for the fourth meeting of Lower Merion-Hazleton which would bring to the arena again Bill Anderson and his outstanding coaching rival—grey-haired, caged Kwikie McGeehan, Villanova College alumnus.

Lower Merion won all three previous tournament engagements with the Mountaineers, two in unforgettable thrillers, one at Hershey and the other at the Palestra. Last year the Maroon won with a few points to spare before the biggest crowd ever to see a game at the Palestra, some 2,000 being turned away.

If Lower Merion and Hazleton survive this week's tests their fourth meeting is expected to attract at least 12,000 to Convention Hall where the Eastern championship will be decided Tuesday night.

Lower Merion is mainly concerned at the moment with Sayre, a team it had no expectation of encountering a week ago. Sayre, a small community situated Northwest of Williamsport close to the New York border, created the biggest upset by defeating Williamsport, 32-29, last Friday to win the District Four title for the first time. Williamsport had beaten Sayre twice, 42-28 and 46-32, during the regular season and had never lost to its small town foe in 20 years.

Prior to surprising Williamsport, the Sayre passers eliminated Hazleton, 35-31, and Conowingo, 36-24. Tip in its first venture in inter-district play, Sayre crushed little Dalton from the Scranton area, 36-15, at Mansfield State Teachers College Tuesday to qualify for the unenviable chance of pitting its prowess against Lower Merion's three-time State champions.

Bill Anderson, L. M. coach, didn't bother to have Sayre scouted against Dalton as the latter wasn't figured to have a chance. This turned out to be the case. Sayre, holding Dalton without a point in the first quarter as it ran up a 20-4 lead by halftime. It was Sayre's 16th victory in 19 games.

125 Attend Annual Spring Fashion Show Parade of Models Depict Wartime Styles

Mrs. Walters Gives Hints on Buying; Says New Note in Top Coats Is Briefness; Door Prizes Are Announced by Mrs. James I. Patin; Mrs. Warner G. Vaughan Was Chairman of Show

One hundred and twenty-five persons attended an annual Spring fashion show and bridge party given by the Junior Women's Community Club of Narberth at the Community Building on Monday evening.

Mrs. Warner G. Vaughan, chairman of the fashion show, introduced Mrs. Ella Waters, fashion director of Strawbridge and Clothier, who gave a talk on fashions for this Spring and the war influence on fashions, and who also presented the store's professional models and described their costumes as they exhibited them.

"The fashion story in a war time world is always different from any other time. This time the fashion story is truly wonderful with a most encouraging fashion scheme. I have never seen colors more beautiful than have never seen styles more becoming," Mrs. Waters stated.

"Don't buy too much," she counseled. "A woman never needs at any time any more than she is going to wear. If you plan your wardrobe well, you will not need so many clothes to be the best dressed woman. Anything bought today will be fine for the duration. Stores do not have enough merchandise to supply frantic buying."

Suits, which are the most important apparel for Spring, were shown first. The first model wore a violet, tailored suit featuring four buttoned pockets. With this a violet half-hat was worn.

Mrs. Waters said that violet, lilac or one of the purple shades predominate this Spring. A lilac suit with the new cardigan neckline and two gold plastic buttons was next shown. Brown accessories and a pill box "leap year" hat full of bows of pink, blue and brown were worn with this suit.

An ideal suit for a woman's busy life was worn by the third model. It was a black dress suit with satin piping and a frilly jabot. A little white straw hat tilted over one eye complemented this costume.

The fourth model appeared in a three-buttoned lilac tailored suit with a little lilac lambourine of a hat trimmed with pink flowers and a face veil.

A lilac top coat matching the model's suit was exhibited. A white frilled blouse and a tiny purple felt hat were worn with this costume.

A second appearance was made by one of the models in a green full-sleeved topper which was gathered in at the waistline and which had a tie belt. A side drape black hat was shown with this costume.

Mrs. Waters stressed that the new note in top coats is briefness. The short coat is more and more becoming.

The first model wore a violet, tailored suit featuring four buttoned pockets. With this a violet half-hat was worn.

Mrs. Waters said that violet, lilac or one of the purple shades predominate this Spring. A lilac suit with the new cardigan neckline and two gold plastic buttons was next shown. Brown accessories and a pill box "leap year" hat full of bows of pink, blue and brown were worn with this suit.

An ideal suit for a woman's busy life was worn by the third model. It was a black dress suit with satin piping and a frilly jabot. A little white straw hat tilted over one eye complemented this costume.

The fourth model appeared in a three-buttoned lilac tailored suit with a little lilac lambourine of a hat trimmed with pink flowers and a face veil.

A lilac top coat matching the model's suit was exhibited. A white frilled blouse and a tiny purple felt hat were worn with this costume.

A second appearance was made by one of the models in a green full-sleeved topper which was gathered in at the waistline and which had a tie belt. A side drape black hat was shown with this costume.

Mrs. Waters stressed that the new note in top coats is briefness. The short coat is more and more becoming.

The first model wore a violet, tailored suit featuring four buttoned pockets. With this a violet half-hat was worn.

Mrs. Waters said that violet, lilac or one of the purple shades predominate this Spring. A lilac suit with the new cardigan neckline and two gold plastic buttons was next shown. Brown accessories and a pill box "leap year" hat full of bows of pink, blue and brown were worn with this suit.

An ideal suit for a woman's busy life was worn by the third model. It was a black dress suit with satin piping and a frilly jabot. A little white straw hat tilted over one eye complemented this costume.

The fourth model appeared in a three-buttoned lilac tailored suit with a little lilac lambourine of a hat trimmed with pink flowers and a face veil.

A lilac top coat matching the model's suit was exhibited. A white frilled blouse and a tiny purple felt hat were worn with this costume.

A second appearance was made by one of the models in a green full-sleeved topper which was gathered in at the waistline and which had a tie belt. A side drape black hat was shown with this costume.

Mrs. Waters stressed that the new note in top coats is briefness. The short coat is more and more becoming.

The first model wore a violet, tailored suit featuring four buttoned pockets. With this a violet half-hat was worn.

Mrs. Waters said that violet, lilac or one of the purple shades predominate this Spring. A lilac suit with the new cardigan neckline and two gold plastic buttons was next shown. Brown accessories and a pill box "leap year" hat full of bows of pink, blue and brown were worn with this suit.

An ideal suit for a woman's busy life was worn by the third model. It was a black dress suit with satin piping and a frilly jabot. A little white straw hat tilted over one eye complemented this costume.

Mrs. Waters said that violet, lilac or one of the purple shades predominate this Spring. A lilac suit with the new cardigan neckline and two gold plastic buttons was next shown. Brown accessories and a pill box "leap year" hat full of bows of pink, blue and brown were worn with this suit.

An ideal suit for a woman's busy life was worn by the third model. It was a black dress suit with satin piping and a frilly jabot. A little white straw hat tilted over one eye complemented this costume.

The fourth model appeared in a three-buttoned lilac tailored suit with a little lilac lambourine of a hat trimmed with pink flowers and a face veil.

A lilac top coat matching the model's suit was exhibited. A white frilled blouse and a tiny purple felt hat were worn with this costume.

A second appearance was made by one of the models in a green full-sleeved topper which was gathered in at the waistline and which had a tie belt. A side drape black hat was shown with this costume.

Mrs. Waters stressed that the new note in top coats is briefness. The short coat is more and more becoming.

The first model wore a violet, tailored suit featuring four buttoned pockets. With this a violet half-hat was worn.

Mrs. Waters said that violet, lilac or one of the purple shades predominate this Spring. A lilac suit with the new cardigan neckline and two gold plastic buttons was next shown. Brown accessories and a pill box "leap year" hat full of bows of pink, blue and brown were worn with this suit.

An ideal suit for a woman's busy life was worn by the third model. It was a black dress suit with satin piping and a frilly jabot. A little white straw hat tilted over one eye complemented this costume.

The fourth model appeared in a three-buttoned lilac tailored suit with a little lilac lambourine of a hat trimmed with pink flowers and a face veil.

A lilac top coat matching the model's suit was exhibited. A white frilled blouse and a tiny purple felt hat were worn with this costume.

A second appearance was made by one of the models in a green full-sleeved topper which was gathered in at the waistline and which had a tie belt. A side drape black hat was shown with this costume.

Mrs. Waters stressed that the new note in top coats is briefness. The short coat is more and more becoming.

The first model wore a violet, tailored suit featuring four buttoned pockets. With this a violet half-hat was worn.

Mrs. Waters said that violet, lilac or one of the purple shades predominate this Spring. A lilac suit with the new cardigan neckline and two gold plastic buttons was next shown. Brown accessories and a pill box "leap year" hat full of bows of pink, blue and brown were worn with this suit.

An ideal suit for a woman's busy life was worn by the third model. It was a black dress suit with satin piping and a frilly jabot. A little white straw hat tilted over one eye complemented this costume.

The fourth model appeared in a three-buttoned lilac tailored suit with a little lilac lambourine of a hat trimmed with pink flowers and a face veil.

A lilac top coat matching the model's suit was exhibited. A white frilled blouse and a tiny purple felt hat were worn with this costume.

A second appearance was made by one of the models in a green full-sleeved topper which was gathered in at the waistline and which had a tie belt. A side drape black hat was shown with this costume.

Mrs. Waters stressed that the new note in top coats is briefness. The short coat is more and more becoming.

The first model wore a violet, tailored suit featuring four buttoned pockets. With this a violet half-hat was worn.

Mrs. Waters said that violet, lilac or one of the purple shades predominate this Spring. A lilac suit with the new cardigan neckline and two gold plastic buttons was next shown. Brown accessories and a pill box "leap year" hat full of bows of pink, blue and brown were worn with this suit.

An ideal suit for a woman's busy life was worn by the third model. It was a black dress suit with satin piping and a frilly jabot. A little white straw hat tilted over one eye complemented this costume.

The fourth model appeared in a three-buttoned lilac tailored suit with a little lilac lambourine of a hat trimmed with pink flowers and a face veil.

A lilac top coat matching the model's suit was exhibited. A white frilled blouse and a tiny purple felt hat were worn with this costume.

A second appearance was made by one of the models in a green full-sleeved topper which was gathered in at the waistline and which had a tie belt. A side drape black hat was shown with this costume.

Mrs. Waters stressed that the new note in top coats is briefness. The short coat is more and more becoming.

The first model wore a violet, tailored suit featuring four buttoned pockets. With this a violet half-hat was worn.

WINS WINGS

Red Cross Still Way Short of Goal

Committee Is Named To Judge Window Displays

With only ten days remaining in which to complete the drive on schedule, the Main Line Branch of the Red Cross was still $310,000 short of its 1944 War Fund quota.

Approximate total of all collections by that drive was $200,000 garnered during the 20 days since the effort began March 1. As branch officials pointed out, this means that far less than one-half the quota has been raised in more than two-thirds of the time allotted.

Branch officials, meeting Monday to mull over the problem of the lagging effort, were still hopeful that the Main Line Branch could reach its $310,000 goal, but they confessed that this was only conceivable if a new burst of generous giving and energetic solicitation filled the remaining ten days.

Nothing has been more possible of extending the campaign beyond April 1, day it is scheduled to close.

Frederick W. Dreher, War Fund chairman, reiterated his plea against the number of $1 donations coming in. Last week Dreher pointed out that the $1 donations ("Roll Call" contribution during peacetime) are "pitifully inadequate" in the face of huge wartime needs—particularly the needs of millions of American fighting men at the fronts, and prisoners of war.

Mrs. Henry C. Eamshaw, branch chairman, this week urged branch members not to wait until they are approached by a War Fund solicitor.

Both Mrs. Eamshaw and Dreher, reporting the sentiment of Monday's special meeting, pointed out the disparity between the small contributions being received and the enormous cost of "keeping the Red Cross at this side."

In connection with the drive Mrs. Eamshaw has announced appointment of a committee to judge War Fund window displays prepared by Main Line schools and others and now being exhibited in a statement by various houses throughout the Main Line. The best windows, according to the committee's judgment, will be recognized by awards of ribbons to their creators.

On the committee are Mrs. Jesse H. Hall of the Bryn Mawr Woman's Club; Mrs. William F. Leisman, president of the Ardmore Woman's Club; Mrs. H. C. Middleton, Jr., president of the Narberth Woman's Club.

Mrs. Harriet Brown of Haverford, Mrs. Lucille Jones and Mrs. Joseph Littlejohn of Ardmore and Mrs. Alex. Pollit of Bryn Mawr represent college workers of their respective sections on the committee.

Representing Italian women's groups of the Main Line are Mrs. Dorothy Giacomucci and Mrs. Mary Fitt.

Keystone Automobile Club puts solution of the gasoline black market problem squarely up to the motorists.

